

SONOMA INDEX-TRIBUNE.

SONOMA, JUNE 11, 1892.

H. H. GRANGE, EDITOR.

NEW DRESS.

This week the INDEX-TRIBUNE appears in a new dress of type, purchased from one of the leading foundries in San Francisco. The patrons of the paper in Sonoma Valley and elsewhere will be pleased to note this typographical improvement of the paper as it goes to show that the INDEX-TRIBUNE, notwithstanding the dull times, is not unmindful of the right of its readers to a neat and newsy paper. That is what they take it for, and it will always be our aim to give them their money's worth. Of course there are envious ones in Sonoma who hate to see any one prosper by themselves. These, of course, will receive the new dress and the evidence of prosperity which it signifies, in a petulant spirit, and it would not surprise us in the least if an adv. or a subscription or two is not lost on account of our new clothes. This envious and selfish spirit is characteristic of some people we know in this town.

A Theatrical Treat.

The Hertslet & Trader Comedy Company will be with us next Thursday evening, June 16th, in the "Old Guard" and the "Victim of Circumstances," at Union Hall. The company consists, in addition to Trader, Hertslet, Hogarty, Kierns, Bosworth, Mrs. M. F. Bates, Olive Hoff and Belle Graham, Miss Vining, who is without a doubt the best soloist on the Coast. She came to this State as leading lady with the New York Opera Company and immediately made a big hit and lately she has been acting at the Alcazar in the lead and has renewed her success and retained the popularity which she had with the Opera Company. The old members of this company are all well known and popular all along the Coast and will be heartily welcomed on the 16th. Their curtain raiser is the "Old Guard," a one act drama which ran to large houses in England and her colonies. Trader has a great chance as the French Old Guardsman which he takes full advantage of. The "Victim of Circumstances" is a three-act farce and is the cause of a constant shout of laughter from rise to fall of curtain. The Victim (Trader) is constantly in hot water with a mother-in-law, her angel daughter and an old sweetheart, who unexpectedly appears on the scene. As this is the first opportunity that the people of Sonoma have had of witnessing a performance by a really first-class company we hope they will be greeted by a packed house.

GLEN ELLEN.

It began raining here last Tuesday and continued the entire day. V. L. Pieratt shipped a carload of cherries to the East last Tuesday. E. Lander, of the McEwen farm, has gone extensively into the poultry business.

At the annual election for School Trustee in this district last Tuesday J. M. Zane was re-elected.

The county roads are in excellent condition, and much praise is due to John Kearney, the Road Master.

John Hendley, Chas. Poppe, and L. E. Ricksecker were appointed to view a road between the farms of P. Monahan and P. Malone.

Interesting and instructive religious services were held at the school house last Sunday evening. Rev. J. F. Foley and B. F. Ephip officiated.

The ladies of Glen Ellen Grange will give a social and entertainment this evening in their hall. The proceeds will be used for the purchase of an organ and it promises to be a success throughout.

REMINGTON.

Glen Ellen, June 10th, 1892.

We have received a copy of the Lodi Budget, a new paper published by Mrs. R. G. Steple. It presents a neat appearance and we wish it success. Mrs. Steple has been a publisher for the past 30 years, therefore she cannot fail to please the people of Lodi and vicinity.

Sarsaparilla belongs to the smilax family of plants, and is found very generally over the American continent; but the variety that is richest in medicinal properties is the Honduras root, of which the famous Ayer's Sarsaparilla is made.

An immense crop of hay is being gathered on the reclaimed lands of Senator Jones a few miles south of Sonoma. In many places on the ranch the yield is enormous.

SONOMA MATTERS.

The Duhring Bridge vs. Electric Lights for the Town.

Mr. Editor:

Permit a scribbler, who is not used to writing for a newspaper, to express his opinion about Sonoma City matters. I am pleased to state that at the last meeting of the Board of Trustees all the members did fairly well. I must especially mention Mr. Henry Seipp for the manly way in which he acknowledged the error he made by voting for a resolution or motion permitting the School Trustees to encroach upon the sidewalk in front of the school lot, and for the mending of the error by moving to strike out from the minutes that obnoxious order. He did also well to have the sewer fund abolished. Every fair thinking person in Sonoma must admit that the sewer business as proposed could not have been carried out, but that relief in some other way should be given to the people suffering on account of the nuisance. Let Trustee Seipp follow HIS OWN JUDGMENT and he will be all right.

I am sorry to say, however, that I cannot agree with Mr. L. Litzius. He advocated the erection of electric or some other lights for the town, that is around the Plaza and probably on Broadway, and said that as our streets are in a fair condition attention must be given to some other improvements. There is within a block from the center of the town a dry creek without a bridge, the crossing of which is at all times dangerous, especially when it is dark. Mr. Litzius cannot mean that this spot is in a fair condition. I think the Trustees should first build a bridge here before they start about lighting the town, and that they should well consider the lighting, or Sonoma might get another elephant on its hands, and a bigger one than the Plaza at that.

FINDING THE PROOF.

HOW AN EDITOR CONVINCED A FINANCIER.

A Doubter Is Given Questionable Proof Which He Did Not Believe Could Be Produced.

"It is all very well," said a prominent California street financier to a well-known San Francisco editor, "for you newspaper men to investigate and recommend anything which can help the people, but the proofs you bring are not definite enough and are too far away from home. Why don't you produce some San Francisco proofs? Simply because you cannot do it."

The above conversation occurred in the court of the Palace Hotel.

"I will wager you the best dinner you can order," said the editor, "that within a week I can produce satisfactory evidence right here in San Francisco that every assertion we have made concerning this investigation is true."

The results of the editorial work are given herewith:

Mr. William Gieselman, a well-known attorney and manager of the Haas & Co. Trust, was found at his office in the Phelan Building. When asked if he had been benefited by the use of Warner's Safe Cure he cheerfully and enthusiastically told what the remedy had done for him.

"I had possessed strong prejudice against patent medicines," he said, "but four years ago when I was suffering from a severe attack of congestion of the kidneys and liver, I was persuaded to try Warner's Safe Cure. I was surprised at the almost immediate benefit deriving from it, and I have been an enthusiastic friend of the medicine ever since. I have recommended it to a great many friends, not only in this city but in Sacramento and in Solano, and have seen the results following its use."

Dr. M. M. Gibson is the pastor of the United Presbyterian Church. Some years ago, while traveling in Europe, he was afflicted with a severe attack of the kidneys. He tried various remedies but got no permanent relief. Speaking of the way he finally became cured, he said:

"Having heard of Warner's Safe Cure I wrote to the proprietors at Rochester, New York, and they, through professional courtesy, sent me a half-dozen bottles. I took the medicine according to the directions and was speedily restored to health. Since then I have had no return of the trouble from which I suffered so intensely. I have derived great benefit from the medicine, and I can truly say that the use of this cure really saved my life."

Mr. J. J. Evans, the popular stationer at 406 California street, said:

"For years I had been troubled with rheumatism which seemed to settle in my shoulders, giving me a constant pain. I tried various remedies and doctors' prescriptions, but could get no permanent relief. A few bottles of Warner's Safe Cure perfectly restored my health and I am no longer a sufferer from rheumatism."

Mr. C. W. Hopkins, with J. Honston & Co., Market street, in reply to the inquiry of our reporter, said:

"In 1884 I was refused a policy in the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York, on account of kidney trouble, which soon after became so severe that I was compelled to take medical treatment. I employed the best physician who diagnosed my trouble as a case of Bright's Disease and pronounced it incurable, giving me but a year to live. My sufferings were terrible and reduced me to almost a skeleton. After spending over $1300 in doctors' bills, without obtaining either health or encouragement, I was induced to try Warner's Safe Cure. I did so, and was surprised and delighted to find that it was working a radical cure which has long since been effected. As a result of the work of this great remedy, I to-day carry a policy in the above mentioned Life Insurance Company and consider myself as healthy a man as can be found in this particularly healthy country."

Dr. H. M. Fiske, whose office is in the Donohue Building, is one of the oldest and best known physicians in the city. In the course of conversation our reporter frankly asked the Doctor if in his practice he had any experience with the use of Warner's Safe Cure. The physician answered the inquiry with more candor than most doctors would display when proprietary medicines are mentioned. He said:

"I have seen the formula published in the Medical Journal and I should judge that it had been prepared by some able physician. I experimented with the prescription by prescribing medicine under similar formulae and found that they did much good. In one or two cases after that where circumstances made it difficult for patients to reach me for treatment, I advised them to go and get Warner's Safe Cure. I do not care to say much about the remedy except that I have found it a very good preparation. One case in which I know of its successful use was that of Bright's Disease in its earlier stages."

It is needless to say that these overwhelming proofs convinced the financier, as they should any reasonable person, that the great preparation which they speak has no equal for the serious troubles it is designed to cure. Its wonderful popularity is due wholly to its power and it stands as it deserves to stand, above all other modern cures.—San Francisco Evening Post.

On steamboats, cars and stage coaches Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is carried as the most important remedy in the modern medicine of the traveling public. It cures indigestion, headache, heartburn, flatulence, biliousness, constipation, and all the ailments of the stomach and bowels. It is a true blood-purifier, and is an indispensable cure for rheumatism and all the ailments of the blood. Deafness Cannot be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedial. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. Hence the tube gets inflamed you have a running ear or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and when the inflammation can be taken out, and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be restored to ever, and cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give one hundred dollars for any case of Deafness caused by catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circular, free.

No interest whatever was taken in the election for School Trustee in Sonoma last Tuesday. No one wanted the office, and only a few votes were polled. Most of these were given to Robt. Poppe and he was re-elected.

At the election for School Trustee in San Luis, held last Tuesday, there were two candidates in the field, J. Wadsworth and D. A. Manuel. About twenty votes were polled. Of these Mr. Manuel received a majority and has been declared elected.

Mrs. R. J. Snyder has commenced suit in the Superior Court of this county to recover the sum of $1,000 damages from S. Schocken, the basalt block contractor and quarryman. It appears that Schocken, a portion of whose basalt block land adjoins that of Mrs. Snyder, in dumping the refuse rock from his quarry, lands the same in a deep canyon on Mrs. Snyder's land. This the lady objects to and hence the suit.

SINGULAR FATALITY.

Luigi, a Brother of Pasquale Gili, Who Met with a Violent Death Last Week.

Seriously Kicked by One of the Horses Which the Deceased was Driving When He Was Killed.

Luigi, a brother of Pasquale Gili, killed last week by being thrown from his block wagon, had a narrow escape from being kicked to death last Wednesday morning by one of the very same horses which was being driven by his unfortunate brother when he met his death. Luigi, while taking the animals to pasture, lost control of one of them, which he was leading with a rope, and becoming excited he let go his hold on the horse, which instantly wheeled around and planted both hind feet with terrific force against his right side. Luigi was knocked senseless and lay as dead for several minutes in the middle of the road near the residence of Julius Poppe. The accident was witnessed by two ladies, who summoned aid and the injured man was carried into the same house and laid on the same couch on which his brother lay dead only a few days before. Dr. Vance was sent for and applied restoratives and quickly brought the patient to. Upon examining the injured man it was discovered that no bones were broken, and a few hours after the accident he was able to be up and around although a very sick man.

No Street Sprinkling and Plenty of Dust.

The street sprinkler has closed down in Sonoma, owing to the parsimony of the Board of City Trustees, who were only willing to pay Mr. Harris, the owner of the sprinkling cart, $7 per month for service worth three times that sum. We understand that no objections would have been made to the pay if $9 per month had been offered, but when it came to putting the price at $7, Mr. Harris' house was hit and no more street sprinkling will be done this year in this town unless Mr. Harris gets fair pay for a fair day's service. The result will be that when the season is over the principal thoroughfares of Sonoma will be all cut up by heavy wine teams and the taxpayers will have to pay out for repairing those streets facing the plaza more than the cost of watering the streets will come to in a year, besides being subjected to the nuisance of dirty and dusty streets.

Stage-Robber Pardoned.

Joseph Frey, the stage robber, who with his brother-in-law held up the Ukiah stage about five years ago, and killed a constable who was attempting to arrest him, has been pardoned out of the State Prison, to which he was sentenced to twenty-five years by Judge Pressley of this county. Frey had served only five years of his time. It was claimed by those who sought his pardon, that Frey, who had only been in this country a few months, was the tool of his brother-in-law, and did not fire the shot that killed the constable. In the combat that was fought between the officers and robbers, Preuss, the brother-in-law, was shot dead by Deputy Sheriff Allen.

To Close on Sunday.

A movement was started last week by the merchants of this place to close their stores on Sundays, and hereafter all the stores in town will close on that day, if we except two. Those who will close are F. Cleve & Co., F. Duhring, G. H. Hotz, Ed. Wegner, Henry Weyl, C. W. Engelbert and Mrs. J. A. Poppe. Those who did not care to enter into the agreement to close were L. Litzius and S. Schocken, but it is thought that these latter will "stand in" as soon as they see that the others intend to do what they have agreed to do.

Andy Armstrong, a well-known and experienced hotel keeper of this State, will open the Sonoma House at noon to-day. Mr. Armstrong has completely renovated and newly furnished this hotel and will run it as a first class house. His motto will be good accommodations and reasonable prices. See announcement of opening in another column.

Mrs. Harriet A. Marble of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., was for years a martyr to headache, and never found anything to give her more than temporary relief until she began to take Ayer's Pills, since which she has been in the enjoyment of perfect health.

You will never need a doctor if you have Simmons Liver Regulator handy.

CHARGED WITH ARSON.

Two Young Men Arrested and Admitted to Bail.

On Tuesday last Wm. C. Green Jr. and Leroy Manuel were arrested on a charge of arson, alleged to have been committed in this place about two years ago.

Young Manuel was secured in Stockton, where he had been living for some time, the arrest being made by Marshal Breitenbach of Santa Rosa. Green was arrested in this place by Deputy Sheriff Charles.

Both men were taken to Santa Rosa and admitted to bail in the sum of $1,000 each, the bondsmen for Manuel being Attorney Hoag and H. C. Manuel, while L. Litzius, M. Muldry and S. Schocken qualified for Green.

The accused are charged with setting fire to a building belonging to the Donahue Railway Company, in this place, nearly two years ago. Warrants were issued for the arrest of the parties on the strength of a confession made by George Foutts, who is now serving out a five years' sentence in the penitentiary as a participant in the crime. Foutts was convicted on his own evidence, which was given to secure the conviction of the others that he might himself escape punishment.

Fined Twenty-five Dollars.

On Wednesday afternoon last, Billy Estes was arrested for an alleged assault on P. Bacala with a keen-bladed butcher knife. Bacala claimed that Estes drew the knife in front of the City Saloon and made a slash at him. That, after a short struggle, he succeeded in getting the weapon away from him and threw it on the sidewalk, and then arrested his assailant and turned him over to Officer Sparks. The accused had a hearing before Judge Cheney yesterday morning and as there was no corroborative testimony to the alleged assault with the knife, Judge Cheney had no other alternative than to dismiss the charge of assault with a deadly weapon. Estes was then charged with simple assault and fined $25.

A peculiar circumstance occurred in connection with the knife. As it lay on the sidewalk it was picked up by "Jerry," a large half-breed Siberian blood hound, who took the ugly-looking weapon by the handle and firmly holding it between his teeth trotted off with it. The knife was finally taken away from the dog and turned over to Officer Sparks.

Light the Town.

Let Sonoma have light. It is now within the power of our City Trustees to have the streets of Sonoma lit with gas light. On inquiry it is found that a gas machine can be purchased from $290 up to $750, that would furnish sufficient light for the streets facing the plaza and also one at the depot. At the Home for Feeble Minded Children they have one of these machines of 500 burners, and it gives a clear, steady light free from smoke and odor, requires no other attention than filling up with gasoline when the generator is empty and is guaranteed to last ten years. The cost of running one eighty-light machine in a hotel in Santa Barbara is $20 per month in summer and $25 per month in winter. So far as cost is concerned the Trustees need not fear. At the next meeting we hope to see a committee appointed to investigate this important improvement for Sonoma.

The Flower Queen.

"The Flower Queen," a cantata, drew a very large audience at Union Hall on Thursday evening last. The singing and acting of this pretty cantata were greatly appreciated, particularly so the part of Mrs. Lula de Emparan, who received a recall. Miss Claire Hope, as the student, sustained her part well, and little Alma Catter as Forget-me-Not, sang and danced as gracefully as one would wish. The cast included seventeen ladies, all home talent, whose singing and acting were excellent. Following were the cast of characters:

Above diagram was drawn and verified in all its details, by Prof. Peter Collier, who is pre-eminent as a Chemist, and Scientist. The illustration is made in accordance with his chemical tests of each brand enumerated.

The Carbonic acid gas was calculated to get the leavening strength and that quantitative analysis to ascertain the comparative wholesomeness, purity, and general usefulness of the leading Powders. The result of Prof. Collier's examination and test, reveals the fact, that with but one exception, every brand tested contained either Ammonia or Alum, and a number both.

Not one woman in ten thousand would use an Ammonia or Alum Baking Powder if she knew it. Such Powders not only undermine the health, but ammonia imparts a sallow or blotched complexion.

NOTE.—Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder, as shown by Prof. Collier's examinations, is the only pure Cream Tartar Powder found free from adulteration and the highest in strength. All authorities report Dr. Price's free from Ammonia, Alum, Lime, or any other adulterant. The purity of this ideal Powder has never been questioned.

★ Indicates the Powder containing either Ammonia or Alum.

★★ Indicates the Powder containing both Ammonia and Alum.

While the diagram shows some of these Ammonia or Alum Powders to be of higher strength than others classed below them, it must not be taken that they possess any value. All Ammonia or Alum powders should be avoided as dangerous, no matter how high their strength.

We desire to say to our citizens, that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Crouping, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica ointment and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell so well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. SONOMA INDEX - TRIBUNE

SONOMA, SATURDAY, JUNE 11, 1892.

The Street of Candles.

We were in la Calle de las Velas—the Street of the Candles. It was the way which all devout ones had to take on their route to the shrine, and no one could worship there without a lighted candle in hand. Therefore there was an enormous business done in candles, which, to meet the regulations of the church, had to be of pure beeswax. The street was lined with booths for the sale of the candles, which were displayed in amazing quantities and in a variety of handsome shapes and attractive colors. Probably the idea was that the more elaborate and costly a candle, the devotee held in his hand before the altar the greater the efficacy of the ceremony for himself.

The revenue from the sale of the candles was a prerogative of the curia—the parish priest—whose position was so snug and comfortable as to make him the envy of all his colleagues in that part of Mexico. The income from various sources during the feria was so great as to assure the curia as well as to maintain the church in first class condition. I was informed that another priest had offered his brother of Tepic a $5,000 a year for his position, but the proposition was not entertained for an instant. These candles were not only paid for at goodly prices, but it was the rule that they must be left in the church at the end of the ceremony. The curia therefore got the greater part of the wax back again for the ceremonies very likely, with regard to the due economy of wax, were made conveniently short.—Sylvester Baxter in Harper's.

Dealing with an Indian Chief.

On one occasion the late Sir Donald McLellan was commissioned by the colonial government to purchase a large tract of land from a Maori chief. For three days Sir Donald remained the chief's guest. They rode, talked, ate and smoked together. Each night the bags of gold containing part of the purchase money were solemnly handed over to the chief for safe keeping and returned again to the commissioner's attendant in the morning. But not a word was said about the money. The horses were led around and farwells were exchanged.

"Go on your way in peace," said the chief.

"Dwell in safety in your village," replied the commissioner.

Then at last the Maori, beaten at his own game, gave in.

"Does not my friend know that I wish to sell the land? Why does he not speak about it?"

After that of course the business was soon settled.—All the Year Round.

Palsley Was an Imitator.

Curiously enough Palsley himself was an imitator, that is to say, he availed himself of another man's work by similar processes of mechanical reproduction. Simultaneously with the production of Palsley's enameled pottery in the second half of the sixteenth century another celebrated artist, Francisco Briot, executed beautiful work on enameled dishes and ewers, decorated with arabesque ornaments in low relief.

One of the best known and most popular models of these ewers and dishes was reproduced at the time by Palsley in his enameled earthenware by molding from the pewter original, and the pieces when enriched with his splendid colored enamel were more beautiful and covetable things than the simpler prototypes. These ancient Palsley reproductions of Briot's pewter wares are now of the utmost rarity. The dishes and ewers are never found together, and in fact very few examples of either are now extant. Nineteenth Century.

Why Gold Is Rare.

Why is gold so rare? Simply because it is heavy. There are only two metals that are heavier, namely platinum and iridium. Remember that at the beginning the earth was a body of gas. By gradual condensation it became liquid, while now the whole of its mass, save only an outer crust, much thinner in proportion to the whole bulk than is the shell of an egg, would be held together by tremendous pressure. Naturally, in the course of its formation about a center of attraction, the weightier particles composing the globe gathered about that center. Accordingly we find that the earth as a whole weighs five times as much as water, while the rocks forming the crust are only about 2 1/2 times as heavy as water.—Washington Star.

The Professor in a Fix.

"Ah, is that you, my friend? So pleased to see you after your long absence; how is your dear wife?"

"I am unmarried, Herr Professor."

"Oh, indeed? Ah, to be sure—still, I thought positively—ehem!—but what I meant to say—how long then have you been unmarried?"

TRYING A MOTHER'S LOVE.

Mrs. Flannery Was Sure That "The Two B'yes Is Aquil" in Her Heart.

Mrs. Flannery is a very estimable and industrious washerwoman, a widow, who keeps house for her two grown sons in two neat rooms in a basement. One son, Peter, is a hard working young mason; the other, Joey, is a Jack-of-all-trades and a no-odd-swell, but is popularly supposed to be his mother's favorite. This supposition Mrs. Flannery indignantly resents. "I wouldn't be that mean," she says. "The two b'yes is aquil in me heart, an iver will be." Nevertheless, when the probability of war with Chili was being discussed in a family where she was attending to the Monday's wash, Mrs. Flannery was observed to be listening with a degree of attention which implied some personal interest in the outcome; and this is her own explanation, in response to a question from the lady of the house.

"Ye see, ma'am, if there's war, my Joey, he says he'll go. He come to breakfast the other morning, an he tuk up the paper—had luck to it—an says he, 'What's this?' says he, 'Ar-rah, but I think it's a bit of a war there's goin' to be.' Joey says I settin' down the tappet an' lookin' at him. Joey says I wouldn't be after laving your poor old mother to go to no war. Now would you?' says I. 'An it's fine I'd look in a uniform, as ye know.' An faith, an he would that. But I couldn't bear to think of him goin' to fight haythens an' savages, an so I told him, with me apron to me eye an' a bit of a tender snuffle like, for the b'ye has a soft heart, an I thought best to begin with him an'sy.

"Joey says I don't ye go an' have me alone with me gray hairs an' me sorer now—don't ye?"

"Sure ye wouldn't be alone, mother, er, struck in Peter an' Peter says I should yer whist; who's a talkin' to you?" Joey says I.

"I'll take care of you, mother," says Peter; don't you fret. An it's a fine soldier Joey'll make. An maybe he'll come back an' officer. Sure, I wish it was me goin'."

"Go along wid ye, thin," says I. "It's beautiful ye'd be lookin' in striped trousers an' a soder cap, an it's now? Joey says I will ye stay at home for yer old mother, or will ye break her heart entirely?"

"But Joey he laughs an' he laughs an he says he'll go, an that's just the bad luck o' the Flannerys. There's Peter as steady as the Rock of Cashel, an safe to be trusted with a gun if iver a b'ye was, an it's him will stay at home when he might go for a world if he wanted. An there's Joey has a black eye every month and all ways in trouble, an it's him must run loose among powder an' bullets an be kilt as a matter of course. Ar-rah, well, I've done my part. I've told 'em what I think."

"Peter says I ye're a b'ye of judgment, an if ye want to go an be shot ye may go, an it's not your mother will object, for ye've always deserved well of her. But Joey," says I, ye will stay with me, so ye will, me darlin', for I'd be widout ye."

"An Peter an' Joey they look at each other an they laugh an they laugh. An I says, An ye yeshamed, ye heartless b'yes, to mock me in me trouble."

"An Joey, he says, Don't ye cry, mother, don't ye; I'll stay—if there aint any war."

"An I shook me fist at the laughin rascal, an says I, Joey!"—Youth's Companion.

Chinese Importations.

The report of the maritime customs of the Chinese empire for 1890 shows that the importations amounted to 127,000,181 taels, an increase of 14 per cent. over the preceding year. The exportations, on the contrary, have fallen from 24,647,832 taels in 1889 to 21,111,180 in 1890. This diminution is due to the active competition of Ceylon and India in the tea trade. The importation of rice was considerable, that of opium was increased 1 per cent., and of cotton 25 per cent.

The exportation of tea amounted to 1,665,530 piculs, as opposed to 1,877,331 in 1889, and the value of the silk was 26,255,995 taels, against 26,401,967 taels in 1889. The entire customs receipts for 1890 were 21,900,325 taels. A tael is equivalent to seventy-five cents. Philadelphia Ledger.

Skill in Sawing Mahogany.

It has been found that mahogany should not be sawed thinner than twenty-six to the inch, though occasionally it is sawed thirty to the inch. The process of sawing twenty-six to the inch is as simple as one can well be imagined. It is a species of surgery that requires a keen instrument, an experienced hand and an intelligent mind. A log worth $125 in bulk may be sawed so that it shall sell for five times that sum, or so that it shall be worth more than fifty dollars.—New York Sun.

Burglar Proof.

An old maid is so much afraid of robbers that she strews pepper under the bed every time she retires for the night. When questioned on the subject, she said:

Any scamp attempting to hide there will betray himself, through having to sneeze.—Avondpost.

Good Looks.

Good looks are more than skin deep, depending upon the healthy condition of the vital organs. If the liver be inactive, you have a jaundiced look; if the stomach be disordered you have a dusky look; if your kidneys be affected you have a pinched look. Secure good health and you will have good looks. Electric Bitters is the great alternative. It cures indigestion, constipation, biliousness, dropsy, pleurisy, rheumatism, neuralgia, etc. It gives a good complexion, and is sold by all druggists. Get a bottle.

WHAT A PITY

That so many otherwise attractive, polite and particular people afflict their friends by the foul and disagreeable odor of their breath. It is mainly caused by disordered digestion, and can be corrected by removing the cause by using that pure medicine, Sulphur Bitters.—Health Magazine.

Electric Bitters.

A Little Girl's Experience in a Light-house.

Mr. and Mrs. Lavinia Treadwell, of the town of Litchfield, Conn., have a daughter, Miss Lavinia, who is now a student in the Litchfield Seminary. She has just returned from a visit to her father's home, where she had a most interesting experience. She was one day in the lighthouse, and saw a most extraordinary sight. She saw a large number of people, who were all dressed in white, and who were all looking at her with great interest. She was very much frightened, and ran away as fast as she could. She has never since been able to see a lighthouse without feeling very much nervous.
